PRESIDENT TO USE EFFORTS TO END WAR

CAN'T OFFER ARMED FORCE

Decisions Along This Line Must Be Made by Congress, He Asserts.

Washington—President Wilson has proffered his "personal mediation through a representative" to end hostilities in Armenia.

The offer was in reply to an invitation from Paul Hymans, president of the council of the league of nations, transmitting a resolution adopted in behalf of Armenia by the assembly of the league at Geneva, November 22.

It requested that the "horrors of the Armenia tragedy" be brought to the attention of the powers with a view to entrusting some power with the task of taking the necessary measures to stop the hostilities in Armenia. The United States, although not a member of the league, was included among the nations of the world to whom the broadcast invitation was issued.

Adoption of the resolution was preceded by some discussion of the feasibility of organizing an international force to intervene in Armenia, assailed alternately by Turkish Nationalists, the bolsheviki and other transcaucasian elements.

In his reply, however, President Wilson said he was without authorization to offer or employ the military forces of the United States in any project for the relief of Armenia, or any material contributions requiring the consent of Congress "which is not now in session and whose action I could not forecast."

MEXICO GETS CONDITIONS OF RECOGNITION

Secretary of State Makes Public What America Will Demand.

Washington — Secretary of State Colby has made public the conditions on which the Wilson Administration is disposed to recognize the new Mexican Government, which came into existence with the inauguration of President Obregon.

In the letter which Roberto V. Pesqueira, confidential agent of Mexico, conveyed to Obregon, Colby proposes that commissioners be appointed at once by the United States and Mexico to formulate a treaty of which the salient features shall be:

First—Recognition by Mexico of the "legally vested interests" of American oil, mining and other concerns in Mexico.

Second—Understanding that the provisions of Article 27 of the Mexican constitution relating to foreign investments in Mexico "is not and must not be interpreted as retroactive or violative of valid property rights," in the words of the assurances given by De la Huerta, the outgoing, and Obregon, the incoming President.

Third—Establishment of a joint arbitration commission to adjudicate claims of Americans and other foreigners for damages for the destruction of lives or property during the Mexican revolutions and other disorders of the last decade.

Fourth—Enlargement and strengthening of existing treaties for the arbitration of all controversies between the two nations.

Volstead Says Dry Law Not to be Changed

Washington—The prohibition enforcement law probably will stand unchanged for the present at least. Representative Volstead, Republican, Minnesota, its author, says he has no intention of altering it in any way.

Prohibition enforcement officials, Volstead added, have not requested additional legislation or any changes in the present law. Congress, however, may act during the coming session, he said, on the bill introduced at the last session by Representative Green of Iowa, providing for the concentration in fewer warehouses of stocks of bonded liquor for the purpose of insuring more rigid supervision.

DUPONT TO BE HEAD OF GENERAL MOTORS

New York—Pirre S. Dupont was elected president of the General Motors Corporation at a recent directors' meeting to succeed W. C. Durant, whose resignation was accepted. It was stated after the meeting that the directors purposed to make no change in other officers or in the conduct of the corporation's affairs. Dupont heads the Dupont securities corperation which was formed last week to take over a substantial part of Durant's General Motors stock.

More than $1400 was donated to the fund for the Armistice Day celebration in one day at Exeter.

A car of Japanese persimmons was shipped direct to New York City last week from Vacaville.

8 BODIES OFF PIRRIE FOUND; 2 MEN SAVED

CAPTAIN AND WIFE DIE

Discovery of Dead Believed to Establish Beyond Doubt Fate of Barge.

Seattle—Discovery of eight bodies, including those of Captain and Mrs. Alfred B. Jensen and First Officer Peter Hohlmann, washed up on the beach near the mouth of the Quillayute river on the Washington coast, as reported by telephone to the Associated Press from Clallam bay, Wash., Tuesday night established beyond doubt, it is believed by local shipping men, the fate of the missing barge, W. J. Pirrie, which was caught in the terrific storm off the Washington coast last week.

The finding of the bodies was reported to the Seattle offices of W. R. Grace & Co., owners of the Pirrie and the steamer Santa Rita, which was forced to cut the Pirrie adrift in the height of the storm.

Searching parties of Indians from the Quillayute reservation are working up and down the coast covering a stretch of about five miles between Cape Johnson and James island for other bodies of wreck victims.

According to Captain Austin in command of the coast guard cutter Snohomish, which responded to a S. O. S. call from the Santa Rita last Friday night and has been standing by ever since, there is little doubt that the Pirrie went ashore on the nest of rocks known as the Giant's Graveyard at the mouth of the Quillayute river off James island. Cake rock, which is a part of the Giant's Graveyard, is believed to have been the point on which the vessel was destroyed.

COLBY REPLIES ON ALIEN STAND

Japanese Treaty Negotiations "Informal and Tentative," Secretary Asserts.

Sacramento — Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby has telegraphed Governor W. D. Stephens and State Controller John S. Chambers that treaty negotiations with Japanese are "informal and tentative and have not as yet reached the point of submission and of formal consideration."

The dispatch was in reply to the protest of the Japanese Exclusion League of California against any provisions in a new treaty that would be in conflict with the anti-alien land law of California.

Skull and Keys Disbanded By U. of C. Decree

Berkeley—The Skull and Keys Society of the University of California was disbanded and will cease to exist as a campus organization until January, 1922, by an order of the Academic Senate. The action was taken in the form of approval of an amended ruling by the faculty student affairs committee, and is punishment of the society for alleged indecent exhibitions at its annual initiation or "running" held on California field in October.

The faculty committee met immediately after the "running" and ordered that the society make a public apology and that J. W. Butler and H. H. Cobb, senior students, be suspended. President David P. Barrows placed the ruling in immediate effect, pending ratification by the Academic Senate.

COAL DISCOVERED WHEN PROSPECTING FOR OIL

Bridgeport—A discovery of coal has been made east of here in Nevada by drillers for the Illipah Oil Company. The discovery was made in one of the prospect wells being sunk by the company at a point near the surface. It is high-grade lignite. The extent of the strike has not been determined.

RAILROAD BOARD TO RATION NATURAL GAS USE IN SOUTH

San Francisco—Unrestricted use of natural gas in Southern California has created a serious shortage and the State Railroad Commission announces that it will place its engineers in charge of the supervision of the distribution of gas during the winter months.

Experts of the Commission will superintend the allocation of the supply to the various companies distributing the gas to Los Angeles and other communities.

CAMPBELL BAND FESTIVAL BIG SUCCESS

Among several successful entertainments which the Campbell Boys Band has given the Thanksgiving Social Friday evening was one of the best.

The I. O. O. F. hall was filled to capacity for that kind of an affair, and all present, from grandparents to little tots, enjoyed an old-time family party. The officers of the band organization had arranged part of the evening's amusements, and had called upon some of the ladies to assist.

Dancing was the paramount feature and all ages were on the floor together, and seemed to enjoy the fact. Cards held sway in one room and Mrs. W. I. Merrill, assisted by Mrs. H. C. Smith, engineered some stunts for the younger generation while the band boys had a breathing spell. For the latter part of the evening's dancing W. C. Bohnett, violin, Frank Campbell, clarinet, and Dr. W. I. Merrill, piano, made a very good orchestra.

Generous refreshments were served in the dining room, over which Mesdames Spagnoli, Bargas, Hedgard, Castro, Homen and Henry presided.

The management feel well satisfied with the proceeds of the entertainment, which netted $54.75, with $13.50 subscribed by associate members. This brings the number up to 47, which the management hope to make over 100.

Many parents were heard to express the wish that there might be several more of such parties which children and parents could enjoy together. They will be pleased to hear that another is being planned for early in January.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY AT MORTON HOME

One of the most enjoyable occasions, long to be pleasantly remembered by many, was the dancing party given last week Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Morton to celebrate their fifth wedding anniversary.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Morton was very prettily decorated with smilax and brightly hued leaves from the vineyard, giving a decidedly autumnal setting to the rooms. The mantelpiece was covered with long sprays of lighter shaded leaves. To the strains of music furnished by the Sykes orchestra the hours were passed all too swiftly in dancing for some of the party, while others tried their skill at cards.

As a divertisement a jovial mock wedding was staged. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bride and groom, dressed in gala attire, preceded by a solemn parson in surplice and gown, advanced to their position in the parlor. In a most effective manner the parson read the ring service which made Samantha Rose Bloom and Hiram Strawboss man and wife until work do them part.

The bride was beautiful in her veil and train of Brussells net. Elated over the enjoyable occasion the blushing bride was most charming—and blushing Hiram, rather nonplused, almost forgot his name, which of course necessarily delayed the solemn rites. Showered with blessings and best wishes the happy couple slipped away through the kitchen and when last heard from were on an enjoyable honeymoon. They were the recipients of a numebr of pretty wooden articles as appropriate to the occasion.

At midnight delightful refreshments were served, the guests seated at one long table through the room. Following the refreshments, while still seated around the board, the company sang a number of old time popular songs.

In the wee sma' hours the guests departed with many good wishes for their happy hosts and their assistants, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Morton.

CAMPBELL CLUB WINS MUCH PRAISE

Many exclammations of praise and compliment were heard on all sides Saturday afternoon from both guests and members when they entered the Methodist church parlors and viewed the scene arranged by the committee of the Country Woman's Club. Autumn vines and fruits were used in abundance but with an artist's skill for proper effects. Two long tables were resplendent with these decorations, and scattered among them was a wealth of old time table ware, vases and keepsakes, including a "sampler," colonial forks, pewter tea service, and others equally interesting. Braided rag rugs added their touch to the atmosphere "of other days," which two spinning wheels and an old-fashioned "whatnot" laden with precious treasures, completed.

Mrs. Ellen R. Smith called the company to order and very graciously welcomed the guests, who represented a number of the clubs of the county.

The first numger was a hymn, "Plymouth Rock," sung by the committee, who in their Puritan costumes made a veritable picture standing in the balcony much like the "choir lofts" of old.

Mrs. W. I. Merrill read a wonderfuly interesting and intimate account of "Plymouth of Other Days," dwelling larely upon the home life, the furnishings, manners and customs. As Mrs. Merrill grew up in the New England states and has visited Plymouth, she gave several personal experiences that added much to the interest of the paper.

Mrs. Ralph Hyde sang most charmingly and demurely "The Quaker Girl" and "The Duckling."

Mrs. Ellen Smith read a paper entitled "Plymouth of Today," which was not a description of the city but rather a thoughtful review of the spirit of Plymouth as it has affected the life and institutions of our nation through the decades that have followed the settlement of New England.

A second number by the chorus was of a different type than the stately hymn, "The Pilgrim and the Turkey," a quaint little story of the origin of the Thanksgiving bird.

Mrs. Lillie Shaw read a poem written by Mrs. E. Janes, one of the founders of the club, and read at a meeting many years ago, its title being "The Mother of Her Country," which elicited much applause.

The singing of "America" by the entire assembly was the closing number.

Delicious refreshments of home made pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream, and coffee were served by the Puritan maids, while the ladies enjoyed a pleasant reunion and later examined the heirlooms with the relation of many reminiscences and bits of early history.

The committee to whose efforts the wonderful success of the day were due, are Mesdames Warren Shelly, chairman, J. C. Ainsley, W. I. Merrill, R. H. Hyde, G. S. Robson, W. C. Bohnett, I. P. Beal, Misses Marion Duncan and Jessie Lewis.

DAN YAEGER, CARRIER

Dan Yaeger, whom many will remember from his high school days here when he was very popular and one of the dramatic lights, has been appointed rural mail carrier for the Campbell route. Mr. Young, who has served for many years, has tendered his resignation to take effect the first of the year and Mr. Yaeger has secured the position.

Dan has been mail carrier from the San Jose office for several years, so that the work will not be new to him, and he will find a warm welcomeawaiting him.

GETTING IN TOUCH WITH THE BEST

Edward Everett Hale used to counsel young people to converse every day with some one older, better and wiser than themselves. We cannot all do that, but we can do the next best thing: we can get in touch with them through the printed page, and enjoy the fruits of their wisdom and experience. Probably no publication contains so much from the writings of men and women distinguished in many ways as The Youth's Companion. A constant readiug of the paper is a liberal education of mind and heart.

The Companion has no age limit. Professional men, business men and busy women prize it as highly as the young folks.

The 52 issues of 1921 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1921.
2. All the remaining issues of 1920.
3. The Home Companion Calendar for 1921.

All the above for $2.50.

4. McCall's Magazine for 1921. The monthly authority on fashions, $1.50 a year. Both publications, only $3.50.

MRS. ELLEN BEEBE

Mrs. Ellen Beeebe passed away at the home of her daughter on Sunnyside avenue Monday afternoon.

Ellen Van Alstine was born in Springfield, Ill., June 24, 1843, to Peter and Sarah Van Alstyne.

At the age of eleven years she, with the family, crossed the plains in a wagon, arriving in Sacramento, where she spent her young womanhood. She lived in different places in California, finally coming to Campbell March, 1915.

She was married on her fifteenth birthday to Alvaro Nathan Beebe and to them were born seven children of whom five are now living, two daughters, Mrs. Clara Baldwin and Mrs. C. E. Whitney, living in Campbell. She is also survived by sixteen grandchildren and several great grandchildren. Ten years ago her husband passed away at the age of seventy-seven years, the same age that she was when she went home, and was buried at Georgetwn, where they were then living.

She was converted in childhood and was a devoted member of the Methodist church all her life. She was of a happy cheerful disposition and enjoyed life to the full. Her heart was always with the young people. She was always interested in the public good and during the war was a faithful worker for the Red Cross doing a great deal of knitting for the soldiers. She was also a member of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, the Ladies' Aid and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and will be missed in all those circles.

A Call To The Fray!

The ever recurrent water question is again before us, with a more potent and grevious problem to meet. The Lester, Cilker & Lester Co. has made application to the State Water Commission for the privilege of diverting the water from Los Gatos Creek for irrigation purposes. This is the proposition that Campbell was so opposed to last year. It means everything to the residents of Campbell, who must get their water supply from the wells in this watershed. It means everything to ranchers of the community who depend on the flow of the Creek to supply their wells and ditches for irrigation. Finally, if such a permit is granted, it establishes a precedent which might ultimately remove all waters in the Creek during the wet season.

This company is asking for five cubic feet per second, which at times would give them the entire monopoly of the above waters. This diversion is asked for between January 1 and December 31, of each season, and during the summer months would stop all seepage from the upper creek.

A written protest should be filed by all interested parties in Campbell vicinity to stop this "hogging" of a public necessity. It is a fit cause for much concern to all water consumers.

MR. RODRIGUEZ HEARS OF CONSOLIDATION

Kelseyville, Nov. 30, 1920.

Dear Mr. Rodriguez:

Naturally you are still thinking along the lines of consolidation. I have been intending all fall to write you how Kelseyville Union is making it with the real experience.

I believe both this school and the Lakeport Union are making a real success and that the children and the parents also and nearly all the other pople are well pleased. Our children who come in the buses are the happiest (also the classiest) youngsters in the country. This is true in Lakeport, also, as I was glad to realize when I happened to be there when the bus arrived in the morning on two occasions. They seem to be always singing when I meet them.

In the school, of course, there are many problems to be met this year. Probably the most trying of all was the grading of the children. We found almost without exception, that the children from the country schools were not up to their grade. How could they be when the last year's record of attendance shows that a school with an enrollment of thirty-five had an average attendance of fifteen. Naturally these children can scarcely hold their own with our town children who attend practically every day. Luckily we had the Rincon children last year so they are more nearly up to their grade. It would not have made so much difference had they had only one year of such poor attendance in that school, but, unfortuately, the same state of affairs had existed indefinitely. The trustee from out there told me yesterday that the children love to come on the bus and are coming every day. If that keeps up our problems will not be the same another year.

Considerable money has been spent for playground equipment this fall and our "children of the buses" have been enthusiastic about the good times they have, as has been evidenced by their composition work. Some of them had to be taught to play, as many of the games had been impossible in the small schools of different aged children.

The teachers are continuing the Current Events programs in the auditorium. Many of the country children were badly frightened at getting up before the crowd, but by the end of the year they will no doubt find it much easier. It seems to me a great advantage to the children just to be meeting those from other parts of the district. It is sure to break down sectional prejudice.

Also an advantage of the larger district is the absence among the children, of the neighborhood quarrels which were carried into the school. Last year one of the districts had serious trouble all year by a quarrel of the parents being continued among the children. This year the children do not come in contact enough to take the matter up.

A condition most pleasing to the parents is that the children arrive home from school on time and so much earlier than when they loitered along at their own sweet will, visiting here and there etc. Then, too, they have also reached home with dry clothing during the recent rains.

Just now one of my main interests is "Soup for the school children." We begin the soup regime next week, the Parent-Teacher club taking charge three days of the week and the teachers serving chocolate two days. It will take about six gallons, which is "some soup." If you have an especially good recipe, kindly send it in.

Sincerely,
Cora W. Benson.

In connection with this letter a report from the Campbell-San Tomas school, which has had a little over two months' experience will be interesting:

Last year the San Tomas district had an enrollment of 40 with an average attendance of 27. This year 36 children are enrolled from that district and the average attendance has been 35, which is a better per centage than the local children have made.

On November 28th a band of young people between the ages of seven and thirteen years met at the Congregational church at 4:30 and organized a Junior Christian Endeavor Society.

After being told of the purpose of Junior societies everyone present willingly took the Junior C. E. pledge. After taking the pledge the officers for the coming year were elected, as follows:

President—Ruth Townsend.
Vice-President—Hartwell Preston.
Secretary—Dorothy Duncan.
Treasurer—Eva Robinson.
Prayer Meeting Committee—Clarisse Frost.
Lookout Committee—Stephen Merrill, Catherine Candee, Catherine Aldrich.
Social Committee—Cecil Cutting, Milton Wolfe, Annette Merrill.

The Juniors will meet at 4:30 every Sunday afternoon under the direction of the superintendents, Misses Emily and Alice Duncan. All children between the ages of seven and thirteen are invited to attend.

George Osborne, who has been nursing a bad case of poison oak on his face, is quite his natural self again.

Mrs. C. F. Rubell went to Monterey Monday to assist in caring for her father who suffered a light paralytic stroke recently.

According to C. H. Whitman's rain guage the rainfall for October was 1.85 inches and November 2.20, making a total to Dec. 1 of 4.05 inches. Let it rain!

Richard Mills and family moved the first of the week from the Alpha Apartments to the Frank Merrill cottage on North Central, where they are now very comfortably located.

The Campbell-San Tomas Home and School Club will be Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 7, at 3 o'clock. The meeting will be in charge of the membership chairman, Mrs. I. P. Beal. A large attendance is urged as a prize is offered to the room which has the best reprsentation. The eighth grade will furnish music.

Mrs. Irma Taylor, who has made her home in Campbell for several years, will leave for Kalamazoo, Mich., where she expects to remain for some time, in any event not anticipatiing a return to Campbell. Her son Glen may continue his residence here. Mrs. Taylor has many friends here who will regret her departure, but their good wishes will accompany her.

ON BEING HAPPY

The banker, working at his desk, and pausing now and then to exchange with a customer those cordial greetings that add so largely to the pleasure of the day's work, falls to thinking on happiness.

Happiness, thinks the banker, might be likened in one respect to a fine building. That is, it needs a strong foundation. Some of the various stones, as we might say, in the foundation of happiness are a good reputation, a pleasant home life. useful work, a mind at peace with itself. To securely bind these stones together, we must have the cement of a sound financial plan. Lacking this last, a little storm or "quake" of adversity begins to shake our happiness apart.

As the banker thinks of these things, a customer asks to open a savings account. The word reserve comes to the banker's mind—reserve strength is the basis of all the security in the world. It will make our happiness unshakeable. So a savings account almost suggests itself. It has made the happiness of others secure. It will perform the same service for you.

For CHRISTMAS

Fancy Packed Raisins and Figs.

Down in Fresno are the Misses E. and M. Hines, two sisters, who have an exclusive trade in the packing of raisins and figs. We can imagine that the Misses Hines are a pair of "Bachelor girls" who have shunted the energies intended by nature for the care of husbands and babies, into the packing of fancy fruits. Perhaps the very qualities that made it difficult for them to find men to suit—the nice discrimination and the fine artistic sense—are the basis of the talents that have made them successful in an exclusive business. If that is so, the world seems to be the gainer, for the goods packed by the Misses Hines are very fine indeed.

We invite you to inspect these fancy packed raisins and figs. You'll be charmed, we think, with what you see. It may be that here is just the thing suitable for your friends in the East. Send them a little taste of the climate and sunshine of California.

5-lb. wooden boxes, raisins and figs packed together, $2.25
2-lb. paper boxes, raisins and figs packed together 85
1-lb. paper boxes, raisins and figs packed together 50

Whether you intend to buy or not, come and see them.

GOOD MAN GONE TO HIS REST

FUNERAL OF REV. C. W. MERRILL

The funeral of the Rev. C. W. Merrill occurred last Monday afternoon, November 29th, at 1:30 o'clock, from the Saratoga Congregational church. The pastor, Rev. F. C. Rolls, conducted the service. The congregation sang hymn no. 174, "In the Hour of Trial." The Shepherd Psalm, No. 23, was read responsively and all joined in the Lord's Prayer. "Lead, Kindly Light" was sung by a quartet consisting of J. A. Emrich, Mrs. H. A. Clark, Mrs. J. W. Marshall and Robert Smith, with B. W. Rolls at the piano. Mills Waterhouse and Ed Bucknal acted as ushers. The members of the E. O. C. Ord post, G. A. R., of Los Gatos were present in a body and occupied the first four rows of seats. Mr. Merrill had been commander of the post for a number of years and was much loved by all his comrades.

The pastor read for a Scripture lesson from the eighth chapter of Romans, 31st to the 39th verses. He preached a short sermon of rejoicing, and recalled that when the Rev. E. S. Williams was buried he had been requested to speak of him joyfully and as of one still living. He spoke of Mr. Merrill as one who had completed a whole life, not as one cut down in youth. There were two words to emphasize—"conqueror" and "victorious". "It is a remarkable thing that a man should live 75 or 76 years and overcome all the obstacles, to achieve, to meet all the difficulties and the temptations. It is no mean accomplishment, and, coming to the end, say with the Apostle 'I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day; and not to me only, but unto all that love His appearing.' When Jesus fed the five thousand he told them that what they needed was the bread of life. Not many were with him at the end. Our brother Merrill had failed in nothing. 'He lay like a warrior with his cloak around him, taking his rest.' We are not asked to be big, but to be faithful. We can all do that. He was faithful; he loved unto the end."

The pall bearers were J. B. T. Tuthill, Charles C. Bell, G. A. Wood, L. McGuire, D. McPherson and John Smith. The body was taken to Madrone cemetery, Saratoga, for burial. At the grave the quartet sang "Rock of Ages." The service there was in charge of the G. A. R., Rev. Rolls offered prayer and taps were sounded by Robert Smith. E. H. Melvin, undertaker, of Los Gatos had charge of the funeral.

There will be a memorial service at the church next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in memory of Rev. Merrill and Dr. Fuller. A historical sketch of the life of Rev. Merrill will be given in the next issue of the Star in connection with the account of that service.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Carrie Etta Merrill, both the son, Paul W. Merrill of Pasadena, and the daughter, Mrs. Herbert King, were present at the funeral. Mr. and Mrs. King and daughter Dorothy arrived Sunday by the way of New York, from Bulgaria, where they have been engaged in missionary work the last seven years.

POULTRY

TO RAISE HEALTHY CHICKENS

Lack of Vigor in Newly Hatched Chicks Is Often Traceable to Weakness of Parents.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

To be successful in raising chickens it is necessary to have healthy and vigorous breeding stock, for the lack of vigor in the newly hatched chicks is often traceable to weak parents. Only the most vigorous and the best grown birds should be put in the breeding yards. Each bird should be full of life and energy and free from any serious deformity. Yearling hens are usually better than pullets for breeders, for the reason that the hens are more mature and do not lay so many eggs during the early winter, and consequently do not reduce their vitality so much before the breeding season. Vigorous hens 2 to 4 years old can often be advantageously retained in the breeding yard. The male bird chosen should be young and active. An early hatched, well-developed cockerel is usually satisfactory, or a good vigorous yearling or 2-year-old cock may be chosen. The hens used for breeding purposes should be given the best care possible; they should be provided with large runs, and should not be forced for heavy egg production during the early winter.

Healthy and Vigorous Farm Flock.

DIPPING CHICKENS FOR LICE

Likely to Become More General Than Dipping Cattle Because Pest Is More Numerous.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

"Dip that chick!" It isn't done just for the sake of making a rhyme for "dip that tick," either. Dipping chickens is likely to become more general than dipping cattle, because the chicken louse is a more widely distributed insect than the cattle tick. The "dip" consists of 1 ounce of sodium fluoride to the gallon of water, which should be at a temperature of 70 to 85 degrees. The dipping should be done on a clear, warm day—never on a cold day. The old way of getting rid of chicken lice was by dusting with dry sodium fluoride. It was effective, but in the case of large flocks it was slow and wasteful, a great deal of the dusting material being inevitably lost. Recent dipping experiments proved successful, and the results promise a sure and speedy means of getting rid of one of the worst pests of poultry.

UP-TO-DATE SUMMER HOUSES

Colony Plan of Housing Poultry May Be Adopted to Advantage on a Great Number of Farms.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The curtain-front or partial open-front house is conceded to be the best type for most sections. The colony plan of housing poultry may be adopted to advantage on many farms. This system does away with the danger of tainted soil.

The roosts should be built on the same level, 3 feet from the floor, with a dropping board about 6 inches below them. Good roosts may be made of 2 by 2 inch material with the upper edges rounded.

The nests may be placed on the side walls or under the dropping boards. It is best to have them darkened, as the hens prefer a secluded place in which to lay.

POULTRY NOTES

Let the hens help themselves to a dry mash.

* * *

Market white-shelled and brown-shelled eggs in separate packages.

* * *

Ship or deliver eggs at least twice or three times weekly.

* * *

Cull the flock so as to eliminate the early molters and other unprofitable producers.

* * *

Infertile eggs will withstand marketing conditions much better than fertile eggs.

* * *

Market hens which you do not wish to carry longer as soon as they stop laying and begin to molt in the late summer or fall.

CRIME INCREASE SEEN BY WILLIAM PINKERTON

Salt Lake City—The crime wave now prevalent throughout the country will show an increase of 200 per cent, declared William A. Pinkerton, head of the detective agency, who arrived here from Denver recently. Pinkerton characterized the enforcement of the prohibition law as being farcical in many instances. He said the number of drug addicts had increased 200 per cent since prohibition went into effect and that the drug fiend was much more liable to develop into a criminal than a drunkard.

REPORT PLACES FRESNO IN PROSFERITY'S VAN

Fresno—Fresno is the most prosperous city or community in the entire United States, according to the current report distributed to industries, banks and business houses throughout the country by Roger W. Babson, noted statistician and business expert. Babson through his survey receives reports from almost every city in the country and his November survey of business and market conditions places Fresno at the head of a list of two dozen communities where the prosperity is at the flood tide. The five California cities in the lead of the list are Fresno, San Diego, Long Beach, Sacramento and Pasadena. The name of one coast city, Seattle, is among the number declining.
